SORRENTO ICOPA 2022
XV INTERNATIONAL CONGRESS OF PARASITOLOGY

SOIPA
Società Italiana di Parassitologia

Pisa, 20th September 2017

TO THE PRESIDENT OF

THE WORLD FEDERATION OF PARASITOLOGY

Dear President,

as you know, the Italian Society of Parasitology (SoIPa) is the national membership organization under the World Federation of Parasitologists (WFP) and the European Federation of Parasitologists (EMOP).

SoIPa was founded in 1959, in statutory continuation with the Società per gli Studi della Malaria (founded in 1898). Having close to 250 members, SoIPa gathers medical doctors, veterinarians and scientists with a practical and scientific background and involvement in parasitology, spanning a wide expertise within the expanding fields of Parasitology in the 21st century: human and veterinary medicine, zoonoses, public health, vaccinology, molecular technology development, etc.

Italian parasitology researchers have a strong tradition in the field of malaria, trichinellosis, echinococcosis, and dirofilariosis just to mention the most relevant. Our Society is represented in the most prominent institutions, such as the Istituto Superiore di Sanità (corresponding to the National Institute of Health), where the European Community Reference laboratory for parasites, under the direction of Dr. E. Pozio, (awarded by an award medal during the last ICOPA in Mexico City), the O.I.E. (World Organization for Animal Health - O.I.E.), and the International Commission on trichinellosis Reference Centre are located. Moreover, Italy hosts two WHO collaborating Centers:

WHO Collaborating Centre for Clinical Management of Cystic Echinococcosis, in Pavia;

WHO collaborating centre for the epidemiology, detection and control of cystic and alveolar echinococcosis (in humans and animals), in Rome.

SoIPa also includes very active members of the European Veterinary Parasitology College and, among the several scientific activities, also a prestigious Parasitology Summer Course (ParSCo) which is organized annually at the University of Bari.

With this short introduction, it is with pleasure that I inform you that SoIPa wishes to be considered a candidate for the organization of ICOPA XV Congress in 2022, in the splendid cultural and panoramic context of Sorrento, in Campania region, with the venue at the Hilton Sorrento Palace Hotel.

I must emphasise that the first ICOPA was organized in Italy in 1964 and since then no other ICOPA has been organized in our Country.

The proposed theme of ICOPA XV "Research, Ideas and Projects in Eruption. Fostering Parasitology from the Past into the 3rd Millennium" wants to emphasize the particularity of our discipline, which spreads longitudinally, along history, facing the future threats for public health in both human and animal health, due to global warming, globalization, migrations and changes in human habits, just to mention the most relevant.

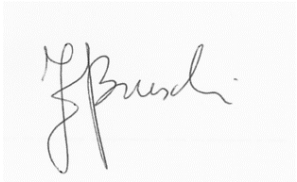

The Conference in Italy will represent a significant moment of idea exchanges and of initial collaborations among different research groups and will contribute to promoting the development and interest for parasitology, from the scientific, political and economical point of views, with a global view, without forgetting marginal local situations.

Last, but not least, the choice of the venue is accompanied by a further cultural implication since Sorrento is surrounded by a land characterised by panoramic and cultural beauties (Pompei, Ercolano, Napoli, Amalfi, Capri, Ischia, the sea coast, etc.) which will offer unique opportunities to the participants and accompanying people.

For all these reasons, I wish to warmly invite you and the board of WFP to take into strong consideration the candidature of Italy to organize ICOPA XV, highly supported by all members of SoIPa, which I have the honour to represent.

Thanking you for attention, on behalf of all Italian Collegues, I send you my most warm greetings.

Prof. Fabrizio Bruschi
